1893 Isabella Quarter Dollar 1893

The above illustrates a coin struck in the Philadelphia Mint in 1893, and as but 40,000 of these coins were struck, comparatively few people ever saw one, as they were only placed on sale during the latter part of the Chicago Exposition, and then at $1.00 each.

The coin is the only U. S. issue which ever bore the portrait of a crowned foreign ruler (Isabella I., of Spain).

We were fortunate in securing a quantity at a price which enables us to sell them, delivered at our counters, at 75 cents each, or by insured post, 7 cents extra; all in perfect condition.

Small dealers who have been buying them of us for past few years, inform us that they find a good market at $1 to $2 each, even among persons who buy them for mementos, pocket pieces and watch charms.
